

CALGARY ACTION BLOCKS
REDUCTION IN GAS RATE—
REFUSAL OF CITY COUNCIL
TO RAISE RATE
INTERFERES WITH REDUCTION GOING INTO EFFECT AT OTHER POINTS IN SOUTHERN ALBERTA

Lethbridge, Sept. 10.—There is a hitch in the arrangement for the reduction of the price of gas agreed to at the conference at Calgary between the representatives of the gas company and southern municipalities. This leaves the reduction in the air for the present. The hitch has been occasioned, according to the Calgary Herald, by the action of the city council there in rejecting the agreement reached between the city commissioners and representatives of the Canadian Western Natural Gas, Light, Heat and Power Co.

The reduction proposed was unanimously ratified by the Lethbridge city council at the meeting held on Tuesday night, and City Solicitor Hall was instructed to proceed with the arrangements necessary. This information was held over by the Herald, the morning after, at the request of Mayor Barrowman on receipt of a wire from Mayor Osborne of Calgary, asking that he be done.

Mayor's Views

Mayor Barrowman expressed himself to the Herald as being astonished at the turn of events in regard to the reduction in the way the Calgary city council dealt with it. He had the assurance of Mayor Osborne and City Solicitor Brockington when at Calgary that the proposal would be endorsed by the council. That is far as they could tell. As the matter stands, the hands of the city council are tied, as it will be of no use taking individual action by going to the board of public utilities and asking that the reduction in the price of gas should be put into effect at Lethbridge. The board has laid it down as a ruling that the gas rates should be uniform throughout the province. Unless there is the co-operation of the board, going to the public utilities would be of no effect. Macleod and Granum, in addition to Lethbridge, where wholeheartedly in favor of the reduction, as expressed by their representatives.

Up to Calgary

Dealing with the attitude of the Calgary city council, the Calgary Herald expresses the opinion that it would seem as if city hall notified, were behind the rejection of the offer of the gas company. It considers that the attitude taken is unfortunate and savors of personal aspirations and ambitions intervening in a question of vital importance to the citizens as a whole. One objection raised in the Calgary city council was that the company but not the city had the privilege of appealing to the utilities board at any time during the three and a half years for revision. But this appeal, however, applied to only two points—serious depletion of supply in the gas field or if the city split the company's market by allowing competition to the detriment of its revenue. There was also a complaint that the gas company was not put on the same basis in Calgary as the civic utilities in regard to taxation. On this point the Calgary Herald points out that the assessment of the gas company was raised from $8,500,000 to $9,000,000 last year, which it regards as a fair estimate of the value of the property less depreciation allowed under the city charter.

These may be the days of "cash and carry," but the fellow who can deliver the goods is still in great demand.

MALCONTENTS ARE SMALL MINORITY—LONDON PAPER
CAN'T SEE WHY SOME HAR-
VESTERS WANT TO GO BACK TO THE DOLE

London, Sept. 11.—(By Canadian Press Cable.)—Commenting editorially on the complaints made in Canada with regard to the movement of British harvesters and their treatment in the Dominion, the Daily News says:

"From the first these complaints of British harvesters in Canada, an officially sponsored by two prominent labor members of parliament, seemed to lack reality. The malcontents were patently a small minority. Their murmurings against their host, moreover, become merely grotesque when it is recalled that they quarrelled with wages of four and five dollars, rather more than six times as little unemployment insurance at home to which they are returning. The two labor members have now withdrawn their charges, but it is difficult to withdraw harm that unsubstantiated charges of this nature do the cause of unemployment generally."

Macleod's Position

London, Sept. 11.—(C.P. Cable.)—"Lansay Macleod is rather in a cleft stick about the treatment of imported harvesters in Canada," declares the Evening Star, in a leading editorial. "As the guest of the Dominion government, he cannot criticize his hosts with good grace. He only refutes the charges at second hand, being careful to say he has not been able to investigate for himself."

The Star continues:

"It is clear that Canada with a bumper harvest is prepared to bid fairly high for casual labor. It is probable, as we know from past experience, that when the boom is over Canada will have very little use for these harvesters. In fairness, however, we should wait and see how she deals with what is certain to be a difficult problem. Many miners who went out with such high hopes will have to be brought back and the question is likely to be solved by a sound economic proposition to carry a man to the Dominion and back for two months' work at $5 a day."

MAINE GOES REPUBLICAN

Portland, Maine, Sept. 11.—By the largest majority ever given a gubernatorial candidate in Maine, William T. Gardner, Republican, was elected in office yesterday over his Democratic opponent, Edward C. Moran, Junior. Virtually complete returns in yesterday's election, the first state election of the year, gave Gardner a lead of more than 79,000 over Moran.

Senator Frederick Hale, seeking his third term at Washington, was elected over Herbert Holmes, Democrat, by a majority almost as large.

The Republican victory was decisive in every contest.

PSYCHOLOGY OF PEACE SEEN IN U. S.-CANADA RELATIONS

Washington, Sept. 11.—(Canadian Press.)—Renunciation of war is symbolized by the Canadian-American border, says the Washington Post, in an editorial commenting on Premier MacKenzie King's speech at Geneva.

"All the arguments for peace find support for all the objections to the war in the relations between the two countries," says the Post. "The psychology of peace, which has been the two countries for more than a hundred years. The old Rush-Bagot treaty has amply sufficed for the ends of amity. The international joint commission is the agency for the settlement of the ends at issue and it always finds support for its judgments."

The Post comments that the "most quickening thing" said by the Canadian premier at Geneva was the conviction that the removal of the fear of war had been the greatest factor in the development and prosperity of the North American countries and adds:

"The growing world opposition to war cannot now lose sight of the advantages enjoyed by the neighbor countries of North America through the removal of fear of war. Canadian-American peace has been maintained in the face of wars that have time and again altered the face of Europe. This is an old story to Americans and Canadians, but it had a strange sound to many representatives of the war-weary states. The psychology of peace, which has been the basis of permanent good will between Canada and the United States and which has conducted to their prosperity, can be attained by all nations if they make a habit of renouncing war. This will remove the fear of war and with fear eliminated, armaments can be reduced and abolished."

REIDS ARE BEATEN IN CONGRESS

Toronto, Sept. 10.—Communism was rejected by the Trades and Labor Congress at the opening session of its forty-fourth annual convention here today after a lengthy and at times heated discussion. The question arose when the executive council protested the seating of Jack MacDonald, secretary of the Communist party of Canada. The protest was sustained by the congress by a vote of 290 to 21.

MacDonald had been elected a delegate to the congress by the Toronto district Trades and Labor council. He and his supporters denied that the congress had any constitutional right to unseat him, contending that their power extended only to dealing with members, not with individuals. The vote was recorded by roll-call, the first time in nine years that this procedure had been used.

In introducing the question, E. W. O'Dell of Hamilton, head of the credentials committee, charged that MacDonald had let support to dual unions and he had worked to promote Canadian industrial unionism in opposition to the international trade union movement of which the congress forms a part.

Several speakers contended that it would be bad policy to exclude MacDonald because it would amount to suppression of free speech and a denial of democracy in the congress. Their views in the congress was that having been elected, he should be permitted to express his views and if necessary they could be condemned.

MacDonald, himself, was permitted to speak "by courtesy" and declared that he was proud of his association with Communism. His views he admitted were not in harmony with those of the executive, but he denied the allegation that he was seeking to destroy the trade union movement. He contended that the congress had no power to unseat him.

"Apparently there are more Communists here than would like to avow themselves," remarked C. V. Arlet, of Montreal. "I admire Jack MacDonald because he says what he thinks. That is not true of some others here."

The Communists, he declared, were resorting to every possible means to hold up business and to discredit and destroy the trade union movement.

PREHISTORIC MAN TALKED
BY GESTURE

Glasgow, Scotland, Sept. 7.—Tongues of pre-historic men could not form words and the initial communication between members of the human race was mostly by gestures, said Sir Richard Paget, specialist on the development of inventions, to the British Association for the Advancement of Science yesterday.

Sir Richard, who combines science research with his work as a barrister and a member of parliament, said that primitive man sang, grunted or roared to express emotion.

To illustrate his ideas of the evolution of speech, the speaker used a pipe, an organ reed and a cork plunger. With this apparatus he was able to produce numerous sounds of human quality, including some recognizable words.

Sir Richard said that in addition to his animal like vocal productions, primitive man used pantomime of face and limbs to convey his ideas to others. As he pantomimed with his hands, his tongue naturally followed these motions.

Then our ancestors developed crafts and his hands became too busy for speech. Finally the time came when the hands were retired and the tongue took their place.

The proposed international park in Ontario and Minnesota would have a huge wilderness area. Promised Land for two friendly countries.

ALBERTA POOL ELEVATORS
EARN MILLION DOLLARS

The Alberta Pool Elevators announced today the distribution of approximately one million dollars excess earnings from last year's operations. This sum will be distributed to Pool members who patronized their own facilities and on the following basis:

2c per bushel for wheat shipped over the platform to Pool terminals.

3½c per bushel on wheat special binned in Pool elevators.

4c a bushel on wheat delivered to Pool elevators on the cash ticket basis.

Cheques covering the distribution will be in the mail in the course of a week or ten days.

This sum is available from excess earnings of the Pool elevator system, which included the operation of the country and terminal elevators after 6% interest had been provided for on Elevator Reserve deductions; the provision of 5% for depreciation; the payment of all operation expenses and the setting up of an allowance for certain contingencies.

An idea of the benefit of the Pool elevator system may be obtained from the following figures:

Pool members who special binned their grain in Pool elevators paid 2½c a bushel handling charges on delivery of their grain and will now have 3½c a bushel returned to them.

Pool members who loaded grain over the loading platform and consigned it to the Pool and its terminals paid 3½c a bushel handling charges on delivery of their grain and will now have 3½c a bushel returned to them.

WILL FIX FINAL TERMS OF WAR INDEMNITIES GER-MANY TO PAY

Paris, Sept. 7.—(A. P.)—Great importance is attached in France to the conversation at Geneva yesterday between Foreign Minister Briand and Chancellor Mueller of Germany. The conversation is looked upon as the start of prolonged negotiations in which Great Britain, Belgium and Italy must take part as allies of France.

These negotiations are to settle two vital questions, the evacuation of the Rhineland and fixing of the final terms of the war indemnities to be paid by Germany.

The French official mind associated these with the debt which this country owes to the United States. The view is that Washington and Paris agreed upon the principle of capacity to pay when they entered upon the Mellon-Berenger agreement under which the original French debt was funded at $4,025,000,000 in principal and interest. It is pointed out that France's capacity to pay is partly determined by the sums which she is to receive from Germany.

Germany in turn has indicated that her capacity to pay indemnities is partly dependent upon a free hand in the Rhineland.

The French parliament has not approved the debt settlement with the United States and in view of the reasoning in regard to the German payments it is believed here that ratification of the Mellon-Berenger agreement would considerably depend on the outcome of the negotiations between Germany and the allies.

Estimates of expenditures on Commander Byrd's next polar trip show that the explorers will not be chasing rainbows. They had to find the pot of gold before starting.

THE REAL LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Dr. Mack Eastman of the University of British Columbia, who has been attached to the League of Nations staff at Geneva, speaks to the Canadian Club tomorrow of his work in the League.

Dr. Eastman represents a section of the League that is little known to the public.

The political activities of the League of Nations are well advertised. Almost daily there is some report of political or diplomatic negotiations that are undertaken under the League's auspices. Great statesmen go to Geneva, make treaties and thunder out their opinions. The newsy and noisy part of the League is the political end of it.

But Dr. Eastman and his colleagues, occupied in the economic and social part of the League's activities, are going quietly about a great work beside which the political end is insignificant. For the International Labor Office of the League has become the clearing house for the world's advanced economic scientific and social thought.

Problems in agricultural marketing, in the relations between labor and capital, in the legislative protection of women and children come before the International Labor Office and receive the careful study and research of one of the most efficient bodies of men and women in the civilized world.

This is the real League of Nations. Statesmen make their spectacular speeches and make and unmake their treaties. But the International Labor Office goes quietly on its way, working out the genuine problems of government that touch the most intimate life of the people.

Vancouver is glad to have contributed to this vital work a man of the intellectual stature of Dr. Mack Eastman.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE

The Council of the League of Nations has refused Costa Rica's request for a definition of the Monroe Doctrine, deeming it to be a domestic policy of the United States that has not received official international recognition, and is, therefore, beyond the jurisdiction of the League.

The enunciation of this doctrine in 1823 by President Monroe expressed the sentiments of the American people, who feared the probable aggression of the European powers, but the proclamation was hastened by Canning's suggestion, that Great Britain and the United States should co-operate in opposing the Holy Alliance in any attempt to aid Spain to recover her lost territories in South America, and which had declared their independence by the establishment of the republican form of government.

Canning's proposal was rejected by the Monroe Cabinet, which decided to adhere to the policy of avoiding European entanglements, and the United States bluntly announced to the world that European interference in the Western Hemisphere would be considered as an unfriendly act.

The Monroe Doctrine has no sanction in international law, and its legality has not been admitted by treaties or conventions, and it stands as the policy of an individual nation whose power and prestige have been sufficiently strong to compel respect for its wishes.

But, notwithstanding its arbitrary nature and the lack of legal sanctions, the Monroe Doctrine undoubtedly has worked for the benefit of the Americans, even though it has been invoked to promote the welfare and ambitions of the nation that pronounced it.

The Western Hemisphere is developing a civilization and culture distinctly its own, and the result so far, with all its crudities and deficiencies, encourages us to believe that our destiny will best be achieved by freedom from the accumulated burden of European social and political traditions and that prevailing east of mind which looks backward with reverential awe on the glories of the past. The preservation of the Americas from the political control of European nations has prevented the wholesale transplantation of the systems, traditions, and rooted prejudices that have made an unholy mess of things in Europe.

WOMEN AS PILOTS

The exploit of Lady Heath, British airwoman, who piloted a commercial plane carrying 25 passengers across the English channel on one of its regular trips, suggests the possibility that aviation will become a new field in which women can exercise their talents.

There is no reason why women should not be as good pilots as men. The job calls for an excellent physique and good powers of endurance, but does not require great physical strength. No one has ever demonstrated that the qualities most needed by a competent aviator are not possessed by women as well as by men.

It is entirely possible that the future will see many women piloting commercial planes about the country—indeed, "probable" is no doubt a better word than "possible." Women have invaded every other field; why not this one?

Glenwood News

A double wedding was solemnized in the Cardston temple on Wednesday evening September 5th, when Edward Beaves, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Beaves, and Miss Wanda Leavitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Leavitt also Kenneth Byam of Toronto, and Miss Viola Burgess, daughter of John Burgess, were united in marriage by Edw. J. Wood. These young couples are spending a short honeymoon in Calgary. They expect to make their future homes in Glenwood.

Mrs. Rachel Archibald and Mrs. Lily Archibald returned to Glenwood Thursday night after having spent two months in California where they went to attend the funeral of their sister.

Brian Stringam is taking Grade XII at Cardston this year. He successfully passed all of his Grade XI units in Glenwood last year.

Mr. Theodore Ehlers of Magrath, formerly of Glenwood, was in town Sunday.

John S. Smith and wife of Cardston were Sunday visitors at the church services at Glenwood.

A meeting of the directors of the U. I. D. school fair was held at Glenwood Wednesday night for the purpose of filling vacancies in the organization caused by the removal of some of the teachers. Representatives from Mt. View, Hill Spring, Glenwood, and Lone Rock districts were present. All arrangements were completed for this year's fair, which will be held Tuesday, Sept. 11th at Glenwood.

The farmers of the district were surprised and grateful that Friday's rain storm did not develop into a snowstorm. However the frosty nights following the storm have "ripened" the balance of the grain, as well as potato vines, corn, and other garden products.

Commendable as is the restoration in England of Nelson's flagship Victory, and in the United States of the frigate Constitution, Old Ironsides, what glory would be added did it mark the passing forever of much that made these ships glorious!

D. G. MCKENZIE, BLAIRMORE LAWYER, (FORMERLY OF MACLEOD) MOVES TO COAST

Blairmore, Sept. 7.—The partnership existing for some years past in Blairmore of J. E. Gillis, B. A., and D. G. McKenzie, K. C., under the title of Gillis and McKenzie, barristers and solicitors, has been dissolved.

Mr. McKenzie has not enjoyed the best of health for some time past and has decided to change his residence to the Pacific coast with the hope that the lower altitude will be beneficial. Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie and son Donald have left on a motor tour to Seattle and other Pacific coast cities, and it is understood that Donald will be placed in a popular boys' college in Vancouver.

Both Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie will be greatly missed in the community, having taken a very active part in the Anglican Church, the Golf Club and the Curling Club. The continuous efforts of Mrs. McKenzie to make the Crow's Nest Pass Musical Festival a success are well known, while "D. G." has made a name for himself on the "green" as well as on the "ice," having played in several provincial golf tournaments and being a regular frequenter of bonspiels.

MACLEOD PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH EXTENDS CALL TO THE REV. ALEX FERGUSON, M. A.

The congregation of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Macleod met this evening in the Church, for the purpose of considering the advisability of extending a call to a minister to fill the vacancy in the church, caused by the removal of the Rev. A. C. Wishart to Chilliwack, B. C., a month ago.

There was a representative number of the members and adherents present, with the Rev. W. E. Kelly, M. A., B. D., of Lethbridge presiding. Mr. Kelly is Interim Moderator of the vacancy.

Mr. Kelly read a number of applications and recommendations from ministers willing to accept a call to the church. The session had previously considered these applications and only one name was proposed to the meeting, that of the Rev. Alex Ferguson, M. A., of Kings Head Pictou, N. S. As no other name was brought before the meeting the call was sustained. An opportunity was given to those present to sign the call, when practically all present did so.

Mr. Ferguson has not been heard by the congregation, but he is very highly recommended by those who have known him, and the work he has done in his present congregation and previous congregations.

He has been 21 years in the ministry in Nova Scotia, and is therefore a man of experience and marked ability, just in the prime of life. If Mr. Ferguson accepts the call, and there is little doubt from all accounts he will, the Macleod congregation is fortunate in being able to secure a minister so soon to fill the vacancy, and more especially in getting such a reputable man. If Mr. Ferguson accepts it will take about four weeks for all the formalities of the Church to be observed before he can be inducted to his new charge by the Presbytery.

AUCTION SALE

Having received instructions from the administrator, there will be sold at Public Auction at the corner of First Avenue and Twenty-first Street, Macleod, on Saturday, September 29

A. D. 1928, all the furniture, fixtures and supplies of the late Robert B. Wilson, including parlor, dining room and kitchen furniture; piano, couches, cabinets, chairs, tables, desks, carpets, stoves (heating and cooking), bedsteads, bureaus and dressers, books and book cases.

There are some choice old pictures and hand hammered lamp and cigar stands and antiques in brass, copper and hammered iron. There is also a nice selection of marble statuary.

Also saddles, kit bags, harness, buggy, carpenter and blacksmith tools, anvil, forge, etc.

There is a miscellaneous and very large assortment of small articles, all kinds and description, accumulated with care during the life-time of the deceased.

The above sale will be for cash only and without reserve.

Sale will commence sharp at One o'clock.

JOHN L. FAWCETT, Administrator.

R. L. HACKETT, Auctioneer.

HEALTH SERVICE OF THE CANADIAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION — DOES YOUR CHILD SEE?

When a child is blind in both eyes, the condition is, of course, recognized. There are many children who have defective sight, which fact is unknown to their parents. That this is so, is evidenced every year by the number of children entering school, who are found by school physicians to have defective eyesight.

The good work of the school health services does not provide for the pre-school child, or for the child who attends a school where there is no school physician or nurse.

A child should be able to recognize a picture or object one-half an inch square at twenty feet. Each eye is tested separately, one eye being covered with a card during the test of the other. For near vision, a picture book may be used. If there is any appreciable defect in either eye, for near or distant vision, the family physician should be consulted.

Cross-eye is a condition which is frequently neglected because of ignorance as to its significance by parents. Children with this condition should be placed under medical care without delay. A cross-eyed child sees double. This causes confusion and so the mind trains itself to pay attention only to the image that comes to it through the straight eye. This results in one eye's being developed through use and the other's becoming useless because it is not used.

Unless the condition is properly treated early, the child loses the use of one eye and is actually blind in that eye. If the child is treated between two and three years of age, the most, or all of his vision can be saved; the longer treatment delayed, the more vision is lost. Cross-eye is a condition that does not correct itself. Children do not grow out of it.

If the child is placed sitting, facing the parent, an arm's length away, with one eye covered by the parent's hand, and is made to look at the parent's nose with the uncovered eye, the parent will find that, on uncovering the other eye, it is either looking at the nose, which means that no cross-eye is present, or that it moved in or out, or remained crossed in or out, which is an evidence that cross-eye is present.

Your children will appreciate, in later years, your care of this special organ.

Questions concerning health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered by letter. Questions as to diagnosis and treatment will not be answered.

NATIONAL COUNCIL OF WOMEN'S HEALTH BOOTH AT TORONTO EXHIBITION

A display of the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto that is attracting special interest is the Health Booth of the National Council of Women of Canada, which is located in the west wing of the Women's Building.

Nine other displays, depicting the work and accomplishments of women's organizations, are under the supervision of the National Council. A special feature is a silhouette tableau which portrays the National improvements that have been secured by the Council during its history of thirty-four years.

The Health Booth is in charge of Dr. Edna Guest, of Toronto, Ont., Dr. Mabel Harrington, of St. John, N. B., and Mrs. Dunbar Hudson, of Winnipeg, Man. Posters and literature at the booth delineate all phases of the healthwork of the Council and its federated associations. Also in charge of experts, an educational exhibit of the common poison plants of Canada, and a model health and welfare centre designed for city or country use.

In conjunction with the health exhibit there is a display of work done by inmates of institutions for the feeble minded. This display is intended to stimulate the establishment of such institutions in all parts of Canada. The opening program at the booth, illustrating health through games, was conducted by The Girl Guides, under Mrs. Warren, their chief commissioner. There will be special programs at the booth every day of the exhibition under the direction of health authorities from all parts of Canada.

The Girl Guides Association is one of hundreds of organizations federated with The National Council of Women of Canada. The purpose of the Council is to secure improvements in community, provincial, and national fields by education of its 200,000 members in problems of the day. In the autumn it will conduct a nation-wide appeal for a foundation fund that will be used to expand its work.

Ask the man who knows it all to approximate the length of eternity.

Canada's Market — The Empire

ROLL down the map of the world. Follow the British Empire red through the continents and across the seas. There you see beckoning markets for Canada—where fewer trade restrictions intervene, where British tradition is appreciated, where Canada is known. There we can sell. There we can also buy.

Canada is buying more Empire goods than ever before—things we cannot grow or make—raw materials for our factories. Since 1922 Canada's imports from Empire countries have increased 67 per cent. Last year we bought Empire goods to the value of $250,000,000.

And what is Canada selling the Empire? Last year we shipped $500,000,000 worth of our products to other British lands, an increase of 44.3 per cent. in six years.

The various parts of the Empire want more Canadian goods. A demand exists among them for Canadian manufactures, or for the products of Canadian lands or waters. But we must see that our exports are maintained at a rigid standard, that they are packed as consumers desire, and that our prices are right.

To encourage this growing Empire trade, eleven of Canada's twenty-four Trade Commissioners abroad, are working in Empire centres. They are familiar with the demands of the people among whom they live. Their services and the information they gather are at the command of any Canadian producer or exporter. To get into touch with Trade Commissioners, write the Commercial Intelligence Service, Department of Trade and Commerce, Ottawa.

When you buy Empire goods, you do a part in making possible greater Canadian exports to these sister countries. Where we sell, we must also buy.

The Empire Opportunity in Manufactured Goods

Of 38 groups of manufactured goods Canada sells the Empire to the total of $178,000,000. It is to be remembered that the Empire imports from all countries these goods to the amount of $2,571,000,000. The British Empire presents a tremendous opportunity for the development of export on these commodities.

Harvesting operations are again in full swing in the Macleod district after the short delay last Friday by the rain and in some parts snow. A considerable amount of snow fell in the hills west of Macleod and all late grain was laid flat and the heavy frost of Friday night and Saturday night will considerably affect all the late grains in the district. Today it is being reported that at least 75% of the wheat was cut before the storm and frost, and a large portion of the uncut grain was ready to cut and therefore was not so liable to damage by the frost. It is expected that before the end of this week the majority of the threshing outfits will be in operation, several are starting today. Quite a number of Combines are

Mr. Timleck was appointed D.D.M. of District No. 7 for the ensuing year and Mr. Whitworth was appointed secretary-treasurer of the district.

The pheasants placed with Robert McNab, Slide Out, by the Macleod and District Fish and Game Association are growing rapidly and have adjusted themselves to the environment exceptionally well. Mr. McNab reports them as having moved over nearer the river some half mile or so from the house and divided now into two coveys. Mr. McNab states that no shooting whatever will be allowed on these premises this fall. The pheasants are on Mr. McNab's land as an experiment and it should not be necessary with the public knowing this for Mr. McNab to have to stop people from shooting there.
